MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Janet Dankert
President/CEO

At CPO, we see the power of connection every day.

It happens when a young person is matched with a mentor who believes in their future. It happens when a family receives housing assistance, early childhood resources, or financial support before a crisis deepens. It happens when neighbors come together to clean up their community or when someone learns how to recognize and respond to a mental health or substance misuse concern.

These moments may look different, but they share a common thread: people are connected to the relationships, resources, and opportunities they need to move forward. Last year, we had some incredible impacts and results. Those results were possible because our community understands that meaningful change is rarely created by one organization working alone.

It takes schools, businesses, other nonprofits, government, volunteers, donors, and residents working together toward a common goal.

Throughout this report, you will see the power of connection in many forms. You will see efforts to stabilize housing, strengthen neighborhoods, support young people, promote mental wellness, improve community safety, and help families build stronger foundations. Each effort is designed to address challenges early, reduce barriers, and build protective factors that support long-term well-being.

You will also see the dedication of an extraordinary staff. Their work requires expertise, creativity, persistence, and deep compassion for the people we serve. I am continually inspired by their willingness to listen, adapt, and find solutions, especially when needs are complex and resources are limited.

To our partners, volunteers, donors, and board members: thank you. Your trust and commitment allow us to respond to today's needs while building a stronger future. Every partnership expands what we can accomplish. Every contribution creates new possibilities. Every connection brings us closer to a community where children are resilient, families are healthy, and neighborhoods are strong and thriving.

Together, we are turning the power of connection into lasting change.

"Every connection brings us closer to a stronger community."

MESSAGE FROM OUR BOARD CHAIR

Grant Seifried
CPO Board Chair
SRC

Dear Friends,

Connection is at the heart of every strong community. It brings together people who care, organizations with expertise, and resources that can make a lasting difference. This annual report shows what is possible when those connections are put into action.

Last year, Community Partnership of the Ozarks served 82,282 people with the support of 9,915 volunteers who contributed 55,674 hours of service. These numbers are impressive, but they represent something much greater: families finding stability, young people connecting with trusted mentors, neighborhoods becoming safer and stronger, and individuals receiving support before a difficult situation becomes a crisis.

"Connection is at the heart of every strong community."

As Board Chair, I'm proud of the thoughtful and responsible way CPO carries out this work. The organization does more than operate programs. It brings partners together, identifies gaps, and develops practical solutions rooted in prevention. From homelessness stabilization and early childhood support to youth mentoring, mental health training, neighborhood engagement, and community safety, CPO helps create the conditions people need to thrive.

The Board of Directors takes seriously its responsibility to provide strong oversight, protect the organization's mission, and ensure that resources are used effectively. We are grateful for the trust placed in CPO by our funders, donors, volunteers, public partners, and the communities we serve. That trust allows CPO to respond to immediate needs while continuing to build solutions that create long-term impact.

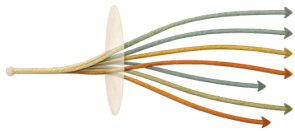

On behalf of the Board, I want to thank our dedicated staff, whose compassion and expertise make this work possible; our community partners, whose collaboration expands our reach; and our supporters, whose generosity strengthens every part of our mission.

The challenges facing children, families, and neighborhoods are complex, but we do not face them alone. By staying connected and working toward a shared purpose, we can continue building a healthier, safer, and more resilient community for everyone.

AFFORDABLE HOUSING & HOMELESS PREVENTION

Connecting Every Step Home

Across shelters, housing and supportive services, CPO brings people, resources and our community together to create paths out of crisis and into stable housing.

CONNECTING PEOPLE TO HELP

New Day & One Door

4,603
Unique guests served an average of 774 unique guests monthly

33,491
internal referrals to services
connecting people to the help they need

951
assessments completed for households experiencing homelessness

316
households referred to housing programs, emergency shelter or bridge housing services

Through New Day and One Door, we meet people where they are and connect them to the services, care and resources they need to move forward.

SUCCESS IN ACTION

A New Day guest needed her own mobility device. Staff connected with empower:abilities, which provided a rollator. When New Day's own wheelchair needed repair, a connection through CPO's Fix-It Fair led to a community member reaching out to his personal network — and within hours, multiple mobility devices were donated.

CONNECTING HOUSEHOLDS TO STABILITY

Shelter Diversion

146
households achieved stable housing

When a mom of four faced eviction after losing her job, CPO helped stabilize more than her rent. Through landlord mediation, financial assistance, and connections to child care, employment and utility resources, her family was able to remain housed and begin rebuilding stability.

CONNECTING HOUSING WITH COMMUNITY

LIHTC Supportive Services

Across six affordable housing communities, we brought resources closer to home and created opportunities for neighbors to connect.

From Coffee Talk and Bingo Lunches to Family Game Nights and community events, residents are taking the lead – stocking refrigerators, maintaining shared spaces and creating activities that bring neighbors together.

Residents aren't just part of the community – they're leading it.

From preventing an eviction to providing a warm bed on a freezing night, every connection creates another pathway toward safety, stability and home.

EARLY CHILDHOOD & FAMILY DEVELOPMENT

Where Connection Creates Opportunity

Every child deserves the opportunity to thrive—but no family should have to do it alone. Across southwest Missouri, CPO connects families to the people, resources and opportunities that help children get the strongest possible start. Every connection has the power to change a child's future.

A STORY OF HOPE

When a young mother faced the possibility of losing custody of her baby, she was connected to Healthy Families, CPO's home visiting program. Working alongside our staff, she completed parenting education, anger management classes and other goals that helped prepare her for reunification. Today, after months of hard work and determination, she is close to bringing her baby home.

A SAFE PLACE TO CONNECT

This year CPO opened its first dedicated home visiting room at the Darr Family Foundation HUB at the O'Reilly Center for Hope, giving families experiencing homelessness—or those uncomfortable meeting in their homes—a welcoming place to receive support.

CPO celebrated the newly renovated Darr Family Foundation HUB at the O'Reilly Center for Hope with a community open house and ribbon cutting, highlighting a welcoming space designed to connect children and families with resources and support.

PREVENTION & YOUTH SUPPORT

Connecting people before a crisis becomes a tragedy.

Every connection has the power to change a life. Whether it's a teacher recognizing a warning sign, a city employee learning how to help someone in crisis, or a student finding the confidence to resist peer pressure, prevention begins with people connected to one another. Through partnerships across southwest Missouri, CPO is helping build a community where no one has to face life's challenges alone.

8,111 TEENS AND ADULTS RECEIVED PREVENTION AND MENTAL HEALTH TRAINING

9,000+ REFERRALS MADE FOR PEOPLE EXPERIENCING BEHAVIORAL HEALTH CHALLENGES OR SUICIDAL THOUGHTS

CONNECTING COMMUNITIES

Through Question, Persuade, Refer (QPR), Mental Health First Aid, Crisis Intervention Training and other evidence-based programs, thousands of adults gained the confidence to recognize warning signs, start conversations and connect someone with help.

CONNECTING YOUNG PEOPLE

Programs like SPIRIT and Safe & Sober empower students to resist peer pressure, make healthy decisions and build resilience before problems begin. Safe & Sober Club participants reported awareness gains exceeding 90% across most outcome measures, including understanding impairment, substance-related consequences and available mental health resources.

CONNECTING PARTNERS

Across 21 counties, schools, employers, churches, healthcare providers, law enforcement and nonprofits are working together to strengthen prevention efforts — including 125 alcohol compliance checks conducted in partnership with local law enforcement to help prevent underage alcohol access.

OUR STORY
A Conversation That Changed Everything

When Positronic Industries experienced two suicide-related crises involving employees in a single month, company leaders reached out to CPO for help. We quickly responded with suicide prevention resources and Question, Persuade, Refer (QPR) training for managers, equipping them to recognize warning signs and connect employees with support.

What began as a response to a crisis grew into a lasting commitment to mental health. Today, the company continues promoting awareness, connecting employees with resources, and creating a workplace culture where conversations about mental health are encouraged rather than avoided.

"You all truly changed some lives tonight"
